CINEMA IN WEB3 ERA

01

FROM GAFA TO WEB3

THE INVENTION OF WEB

CERN, March 1989

Sharing knowledge worldwide

DIGITAL SCARCITY

Problem

Impossibility to create digital uniqueness.

Solution

Thanks to blockchain technologies (2009) digital scarcity is now possible.

FROM WEB 1.0 TO WEB3

Over the years, Web 2.0 has aggregated values and data.

For the first time since 30 years of Web history, Web3 could deeply change digital business models.

Web 1.0: CONSUME
Economy of Information

Web 2.0: CREATE
Economy of Exchange

Web3: OWN
Economy of Property

WEB3 ROADMAP

Web3 offers a ALL-IN-ONE ecosystem: a monetary system (Bitcoin) within a economic system (DeFi) to trade digitals assets (NFT). All this is managed by governance (DAO) and digital identity (DID).

01 BITCOIN
Monitary system

02 DEFI
Economic system

03 NFT
Property system

04 DAO
Governance system

05 DID
Identity system

A BRAND NEW WORLD

Digital ownership allows to produce and trade digital assets and to earn fees from secondary market sales.

Interoperability allows a seamless and dynamic interaction to share digital assets and contracts.

Toward a circular economy

For each transaction of Hamlet Within NFTs, producer and director receive 40% of the price, the other investors 20%

Issue #2

Producers provide little funding for risk-taking

DUNE (ALEJANDRO JODOROWSKY)

A colossal project challenging the vision of the Hollywood studios of the time, this adaptation of Dune was meticulously prepared from 1973 to 1977, before being stopped and abandoned due to a lack of financial means.

Solution

Combine crowdfunding and paywalls to produce content

Stoner Cats (2021)

Stoner Cats is an adult animated short series funded by collectible NFTs

Stoner Cats (2021)

The NFT sales directly fund the mini-pilot and all future content

Episodes

The interface features a vibrant pink background with green floral patterns. A central video player displays the 'Latest Episode' with a play button. To the right of the player are three book-like NFTs labeled 'v1 Catliners: Caterion Collection', 'v2 Catliners: Laser Release', and 'v3 Catliners: Club Edition'. Below the main player are two smaller episode thumbnails: 'Episode 5' and 'Episode 4C'. On the right side, a modal window is open, showing account information: 'Compte: Account 1' and 'Solde: 30.802538 ETH'. The origin is listed as 'https://www.stonercats.com'. The message reads: 'Welcome to Stoner Cats. Click to sign and accept the Terms of Service https://www.stonercats.com/terms. This will not trigger a blockchain transaction or cost any gas fees.' There is a 'WalletAddress:' field and two buttons at the bottom: 'Annuler' and 'Signer'.

Stoner Cats (2021)
Only NFTs owners can access to episodes

Issue #3

Negative feedback from the public has an impact on ratings

SONIC, THE FILM (2020)

After the criticism of Sonic's design by fans, the director finally decided to postpone the release of the film by more than a year.

Solution
